Give That Boy You Are Interested in a set of MECCANO

You can make hundreds of models with Meccano, all working, such as different and capable of giving hours of fun, and whilst you are playing with them you are learning things which may prove very useful to you. Many are built on certain lines which give strength to bridges, how elevators are constructed, and just how they work, why the Eiffel Tower was built so high and yet is so strong, how the Ferris Wheel works, how to construct a battleship, how to make a Locomotive with which actual wood turning may be done, a Porters' Wheel, a Lighthouse, and hundreds of other fine models.

Meccano is Engineering in Miniature

No. 1 set—With instruction for 40 models, price $1.00
 No. 2 set—With instruction for 60 models, price $1.50

The literature department of Sorosis met Tuesday with Mrs. Roscoe Brannin. Mrs. Walter Coombs was leader on Venezuela and the Galanas. Mrs. Charles Durand told of La Guyana and Caracas and Mrs. Fred Pink told an interesting story of the Orinoco and its many tributaries, and the Trinidad Island. Mrs. C. H. Koney gave an entertaining talk on the exploring party that found the lake in Maricobo, and the origin of the name of Venezuela. Mrs. C. R. Siklosky read an article on the three Galanas. Mrs. William Ribbels gave a talk on the life of men, Bolivar, Blanco and Castro who have been prominent in the turbulent history of the state. Mrs. Coombs closed the lesson with items on the geograph of Venezuela. The guests were Misses Orin Ashton, F. R. Bull, J. W. Green, and Fred Thomas. Mrs. J. C. Corbush was admitted to membership. The hostess was assisted by Misses White Holmes and C. L. Daugherty. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. J. Dunming, December 28.

The work of compiling the reprinting of the toys and dolls that was undertaken by the manual training and domestic science departments of the High school is about finished, and has been thoroughly successful in every way. The philanthropic committee of the City Federation of Women's clubs aided by the educational committee will play Santa Claus to the little children of the poor and will distribute these gifts. Investigations have been made and lists already arranged and the varied collection of toys will bring joy to many little hearts on Christmas day. The personnel of the philanthropic committee is chairman Mrs. T. A. Wharthen, assisted by Misses Isaac Hamberger, F. A. Garrison, H. G. Harfield, B. M. Dillie, J. N. McCormack, W. B. Frank and John M. Simlar.

The Revellers Christmas dance will be held Wednesday evening, December 2 in Euclid Hall.

Preparations for the Charitable ball to be given by the Elks are all completed and it is certain to be a great success. The fund will go entirely for the alleviation of the needy and suffering in the city, and society will turn out in body to aid in bringing Christmas cheer to the unfortunate poor. Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Dean will lead the grand march and past-exalted rulers and their wives will follow in the order. The patrons and patronesses are Judge and Mrs. W. A. Lashetter, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Harris, W. Frank Wilson, Harley E. Lee, Fred E. Burton, George Stiles, W. George Hagar, George C. Kerr, Charles R. Dean and Harry Gerson. One room will be arranged for the card players who do not care to dance, and this will be in charge of Misses Harris, White, Moore, and Misses James Franklin Harbour and H. C. Watton.
